From the New York Mercantile Journal.

NORTH CAROLINA RESOURCES.

When canvassing the capabilities and prospects of the Southern States, the natural tendency of almost every one is to think only of the rich cotton, sugar and tobacco raising regions; but a little more comprehensive range of thought would most profitably embrace the timber lands of North Carolina, as well as the sunny fields that lie nearer to the Gulf.

In all our national domain, there is nowhere a country more interesting for variety of scenery, climate and production, and none to which the gaze of the emigrant from our Northern States or Europe could be more judiciously directed. Timber of the finest kinds, the cereals, the ordinary and the precious metals in abundance, belong to nearly everyportion of the State.

Newbern and its vicinity have, for three or four years past, been the nucleus of Northern settlement, and we begin to hear of the best results. The immense cypress forests along that favored coast, are beginning to be developed by skilled and experienced lumber men, attracted thither all the way from Maine by the splendid promise of such a field of untold wealth in their line of business. One of the oldest and most sagacious of these woodland pioneers, with whom direct communication was had but a few days ago through our Newbern correspondence, speaks of the timber he has seen there as the finest he ever beheld. The woods contain numbers of trees from 8 to 10 feet in diameter, and many attain the measurement of 36 feet in circumference. The size of shingles made is from 5 by 18 to 7 by 24, and the price for timber varies from $1 to $2 per thousand, or 20 to 25 per cent. on the shingles.

It is true that the cypress swamps lying along the banks of the larger streams have been cultivated, but there are innumerable creeks and inlets, at the head of which the almost primeval forests stand untouched, and seeming to invite the busy hand of capital and enterprise. It is with pleasure that we anticipate, from the cheering accounts now reaching us of explorations set on foot by some of our keenest "path finders" of the Atlantic coast, a brisk accession to this branch of business during the current year. The results of search and settlement will, beyond a peradventure, be so ample that population, and with it the demand for varied kinds of labor, must rapidly increase in that noble section.

The soil of the North Carolina timber swamps is a rich alluvial from 2 to 3 feet deep, and is capable, when cleared, of producing immense crops of corn, cotton and potatoes. The pioneer opens his parallels of attack by "girdling" the large trees during the first season, cutting his drains, clearing out the undergrowth and applying the grubbing hoe to plant his corn. Throughout the first year no grass grows, but in the second, the farmer, now getting fairly started, finds that he must employ extra hands to help him cultivate the same quantity of land. The grass at length appears in the third year, and as the planter has in the meanwhile, during leisure hours, worked up many of his cypress trees into shingles and the roots have rotted out, he can commence his ploughing. Such lands as we have just described are now for sale in the Newbern district at from $5 to $15 per acre, and the actual experience of the vicinity, is that an industrious man, who purchases one hundred acres, can within two years obtain shingles, staves, &c., enough to balance the whole amount of the original purchase money. Moreover, when the clearing is complete, the land will pro duce from 50 to 75 bushels of corn, or 4,000 lbs. of cotton per acre.

One of the finest sections to which the foregoing remarks apply, lies between the Neuse and Pamlico rivers, and a few years ago was considered a worthless swamp.—Now, many fine farms are scattered through the whole region, and substantial lumbermen and cultivators from different parts of the country are exploring and settling there continually. At no distant day it will be one of our finest grain and cotton growing domains.

At the same time, the cultivation of all kinds of fruit could be carried to perfection, the list of those that can be raised in abundance, and of the finest quality, embracing the pride of the middle and Southern States. On the sandy tracts close upon the coasts, the grape culture has been started by many new planters, some old residents and others new to the soil. The enterprise promises both fruit and wine of the choicest, and the work has but to be conducted by experts in order to add a grand staple at once to South Eastern production.

These are but a few of the novel phases presented by North Carolina progress since the war, and the ocular verification of far more than we have described is within two or three days sail or railroad ride from New York.

HON. HORACE GREELY AND THE NEW YORK UNION LEAGUE—SHARP LETTER.

The Union League Club of New York having summoned Hon. Horace Greely before it to explain why he went bail for Jefferson Davis, the Tribune publishes a response by Mr. Greely. The intimation was that the league would vote to expel him.—We copy the concluding portion:

Gentlemen, I shall not attend your meeting this evening. I have an engagement out of town, and shall keep it. I do not recognize you as capable of judging or even fully apprehending me. You evidently regard me as a weak sentimentalist, misled by maudlin philosophy. I arraign you as narrow-minded blockheads, who would like to be useful to a great and good cause, but don't know how. Your attempt to base a great, enduring, party on the hate and wrath necessarily engendered by a bloody civil war, is as though you should plant a colony on an iceberg which has somehow drifted into a tropical ocean. I tell you here that, out of a life earnestly devoted to the good of human kind, your children will select my going to Richmond and signing that bail-bond as the wisest act, and feel that it did more for freedom and humanity than all of you were competent to do, though you had lived to the age of Methuselah.

I ask nothing of you, then, but that you proceed to your end by a direct, frank, manly way. Don't slide off into a mild resolution of censure, but move the expulsion you proposed, and which I deserve if I deserve any reproach whatever. All I care for is, that you make this a square, stand-up fight, and record your judgment by yeas and nays. I care not how many vote with me, nor how many vote against me; for I know that the latter will repent it in dust and ashes before three years have passed. Understand, once for all, that I dare you and defy you, and I propose to fight it out on the line that I have held from the day of Lee's surrender.

* * * * * * * *

I give you fair notice that I shall urge the re-enfranchisement of those now proscribed for rebellion so soon as I shall feel confident that this course is consistant with the freedom of the blacks and the union of the republic, and that I shall demand a recall of all now in exile only for participation in the rebellion, whenever the country shall have been so thoroughly pacified that its safety will not thereby be endangered. And so, gentlemen, hoping that you will henceforth comprehend me somewhat better than you have done, I remain,

HORACE GREELY.

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the galactic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION.

The opinion of Mr. Attorney General Stanbery occupied most of our available space on yesterday. The ordinary reader, who has not time to study it, will derive but little profit from its perusal, and the fact that the Attorney General delays the preparation of his abstracts for each State, in which he is to define more fully what "State officers" are disfranchised and what are not, leaves the great body of our citizens, who have filled minor offices, still in doubt as to their status. Nevertheless, the opinion of the Attorney General is not only valuable as an able legal document, but is especially so because of several important principles laid down for the guidance of those connected with the registration, which seem not to have been regarded in some of the States.

We had purposed to present, to-day, to our readers, an analysis of the opinion, but we are glad to say that we have the promise of one from an able jurist, who will place the pith of the opinion in such terms as will make it appreciable by them.—Nearly two months must yet intervene before the registration begins. In that time the people will have ample opportunity to understand the whole matter. We may also soon expect from the President such a reply to the queries of the Commanding Generals as will place the whole question plainly before the people.

THE PEOPLE MUST REGISTER.

In the condition in which the Southern people are placed by the action of Congress, it would be criminal in any Southern citizen, who is not disfranchised, to fail, on any pretence whatever, to register his name as a voter. We would have every man to act conscientiously in this matter. We would not for a moment encourage any one to register, who is not clearly entitled to vote, yet it is equally important that every one who has the right, should have his name registered, and thus secure, beyond future doubt, his right to this important franchise.

It is not only necessary that each voter shall register himself, but it is also his duty to see that his neighbor does. Many are laboring under very erroneous opinions as to their imperious duty in this matter.—These errors should be corrected and removed. The crisis is no ordinary one. The neglect of one single voter to register might turn the scale and fix the destiny of the State beyond recovery.

As the best means of stirring up the voters on this subject, we should be glad that intelligent gentlemen in every County would make appointments to address the people. Moreover, we think it important that the best men in the several Counties should be brought out early as candidates for the Convention. We advocate no party organization, no trickery or demagoguism. Nor do we advise the bringing out of men who would be regarded as necessarily offensive to any one. Where sound, conservative, liberal bona fide Union men can be found to go to the Convention, it would be preferable, even though our personal or political preferences might incline us to choose other men. We do not prefer ultra men on any side, at any time, for any thing. Men of sound sense, of moderation and of a kind, benevolent temper, are always preferable, and especially at a time like this.

HORACE GREELY.—Our columns have been so occupied of late, that we have not been able to publish, at length, the trenchant, defiant and powerful letter of Mr. Greely to the Union League of New York, in defence of his act in becoming one of the bailsmen of Mr. Jefferson Davis. We make a few extracts, to-day, on our first page.—The act of Mr. Greely, though right in itself and perfectly consistent, has drawn down upon Mr. Davis the double rectified ire of the bitter Radicals, and in any ordinary case it would ruin, politically, any other man but Mr. Greely. He defies the Radicals, yet he will make ample amends to the party for all that. The New York city press seems to regard it as a capital opportunity to pitch in to Greely, in order to injure his influence and his paper. We think they will fail.

Horace Greely is the strangest compound of good and evil—religion and infidelity—mercy and vindictiveness—love and hate, that we wot of. He comes nearer combining in himself the heathen idea of the good and the evil divinity, than any mortal of whose history we have any knowledge.

THE NEW YORK DAY BOOK.—This paper caps the climax of Southern radicalism, by proposing the names of Jefferson Davis, for President, and Edgar Cowan, for Vice President, of the United States. We are sure that no one deprecates more deeply the use of his name in such connection than Mr. Davis, nor will it meet any favor from his friends in the South. It is in this way that such papers as the Day Book have always done the South more harm than good. We have no use either for Northern or Southern radicalism.

AS AN INSTANCE of New England "tolerance," which has not improved since the days when Quakers were burned and "witches" roasted, it is stated that a minister was dismissed from his charge, a few days since, for the offence of spelling the name of the Saviour without the letter u!

THE NEW YORK Journal of Commerce takes much encouragement from the fact that the three most prominent Republican journalists, Greeley, Weed and Raymond, are advocating the cause of moderation.

"If the rebels came under civil conditions as soon as they surrendered, then all our emancipation and reconstruction and enfranchising measures, and our requiring the Confederates to accept and ratify them, are illegal, for Mr. Greely does not pretend that the National Government could do these things to the States which were not controlled by rebels."

The foregoing remarkable paragraph occurs in the course of an article in the Chicago Republican, (Radical,) directed against Mr. Greely for his humanity in becoming one of Mr. Davis' bondsmen.

It is astonishing that a paper which professes to believe that the doctrine of secession is a monstrosity, without the color of warrant, in law or constitution, should hold that "the rebels" did not come "under civil conditions," as soon as they surrendered.—Unless secession was an accomplished fact, they certainly did so come; and those who hold that they did not, really acknowledge that the attempted secession was successful. The theory of Mr. Stevens, and, indeed, the policy of the dominant party, with respect to the South, proceeds upon the virtual admission and assumption that the seceding States made good their effort at separation, and are not in the Union, but yet to be restored.

That, we say, is the logic of their legislation. They are the only secessionists of the present day.

We have always held that there was no warrant for the dogma of secession, that the South failed in its revolutionary attempt, that, as soon as it failed, the temporarily suspended laws of the government resumed their sway, and the insurrectionary people came at once again under "civil conditions,"—subject to such restrictions and penalties as the paramount authority might prescribe. The President, under a law of Congress, removed the restrictions from the larger class of our people, and absolved them from the penalties, by his Proclamation of Amnesty. With what appropriateness, can the Chicago Republican, Mr. Stevens, and others, ask those who believed in the right of secession to surrender their convictions, when they are practically proceeding upon it, in their whole course towards the South? If secession was accomplished, then the "emancipation and enfranchising measures" of Congress are legal; if not, they are unconstitutional.

Whether constitutional or not, however, they have been prescribed by a department of the government having the power to prescribe them, and we submit to the requisitions, as do all our people, with the honest intention faithfully to carry them into effect. With scarcely an individual exception, this is the feeling and purpose of our people.

Whatever the Republican may think, there is no doubt but that the same physic which has been given to the South, may, with quite as much constitutional warrant, be given to any State which never revolted. Is not the same course of treatment, indeed, proposed for Maryland and Kentucky? But the Republican will say that these States are controlled by "rebels." Well, all that is necessary, then, is for the party in power to assume that a State,—as Connecticut or Delaware, for instance,—is controlled by "rebels," and the Radical screw may be applied and the State at once re-constructed. Or, vice versa, the accidental dominant power, of whatever complexion, may decide that any State government is not "Republican," according to their notions of "Republicanism," and proceed to re model it.

That is the complexion to which things have come,—a condition under which there can be no stability or perpetuity.

CONSISTENCY.—The Rutherford Star, in one column, abuses the "rebels" for defeating the policy of President Johnson, and, in another column, denounces the President as a "rebel" for pardoning Gov. Graham.

"Twinkle, twinkle, little 'Star;'
How we wonder what you are!"

THE WASHINGTON Star says that "the Radical Committee, with whom the matter was left for decision, have come to the conclusion that there is no necessity for a meeting of Congress in July."

CARD FROM J. L. CARSON, ESQ.

RUTHERFORDTON, May 21, 1867.

EDITORS SENTINEL:—I see from the Standard, and little Star, of this place, that the whole pack, big dogs and little dogs, but mostly fices of the poodle tribe, to wit: the Star, and curs of a low order, to wit: the Standard, are yelping at my heels. The Editors of the Standard, either on their own hook, or on the representation of others, published a wilful, wicked and deliberate lie, when they published that I had "recommended fence men as registers," and that I am a "defiant rebel," &c. The gentlemen I recommended as registers for this County are C. B. Justice, L. D. Lollar, W. Erwin, W. W. Wallace, C. C. Goforth, and J. T. Lewis. Better men cannot be found in the State of North Carolina. The truth is, these six men have more character for truth, honor, honesty and general uprightness, where they are known, than the whole pack. These gentlemen were consistent Union men throughout the war, and say they can take the oath required, without doing violence to their consciences. I defy the whole Holden pack to point out six better men anywhere.

Messrs. Editors, you will do me the favor to publish the foregoing, in justice to myself and the gentlemen named above.

Very respectfully, &c.,
J. L. CARSON.

The impeachment committee discovered a specimen of equine nidification in the fact that the Secretary of State had drawn, "with the approval of the President," $106,610 from the "discretionary fund" annually allotted to his department. Big with this discovery the committee summon Seward into their awful presence and demand to know what was done with these moneys.—So much for Fenian trials, so much for apprehension of Surratt, and so on. "So far, so good, but all this amounts to only $12,000; will you be good enough to tell us what disposition was made of the other $95,000 odd." "They, the other $95,000," retorted Seward the serene, with a lambent sub-smile on his countenance, "there being no further use for it, was refunded to the Treasury Department." Consternation and collapse of committee, and virtue triumphant.

A Washington letter says the President's cook is daily expecting a summons from the impeachment committee for not putting black pepper in the soup.

THE RALEIGH POST MASTER.

About the 22d. or 23d. of April last, the mail between Raleigh and Fayetteville came to a dead halt; no stage—no horses—no contractor, and no information from the Post Master at Raleigh, giving the cause of its failure, when it would be resumed, if ever, or any information or evidence of any interest whatever in the matter. Knowing that the term for the contract for carrying the mail six times a week from Raleigh had not expired, and would not expire until sometime in June, or July, and believing that the contractor had done what has always been required from other contractors, to wit: given his bond for the faithful discharge of his duty, we very naturally supposed that the terms of the contract would be enforced, and the mail sent forward at the expense of the contractor. We did, what we supposed we had a right to do,—made complaint, through the columns of the North Carolina Presbyterian, calling the attention of the Department to the failure, and putting the blame upon the parties whose duty it was to carry the mail, or see that it was done. In doing so, under the excitement of the moment, we may have spoken in harsher terms of the Postmaster at Raleigh than we should have done. We had always understood the law to be that, when a contract was abandoned by the contractor, it then became the duty of the Postmaster, at the head of the route, to notify the Department, and, in making his report, "to furnish the name of a person who will enter into contract for the lowest price for the residue of the term." It seems that the law says the Postmasters at the ends of the route, and not the Postmaster, at the head of the route. As stated above, we may have done the Postmaster at Raleigh injustice in attaching blame to him for the continued failure. It was not our purpose to do him or any one else injustice. We always hold ourselves ready to make the amende honorable so soon as we find that we have committed an error, and would have gladly done so in this instance, if we had been notified, and had time been given us to publish the statement in the same columns in which the injustice may have been published.

The only explanation given us by any one is contained in a letter from Dr. Jobe, special Agent of the Post Office Department for North Carolina, which we published in the North Carolina Presbyterian of the 15th instant. This letter is dated at Raleigh, May 4th. It was not seen by me until after the issue of the Presbyterian on the 8th, and could not have been published until the next issue of the 15th. To our great surprise the Postmaster at Raleigh, instead of making an explanation of the matter to us, other than that referred to above from Dr. Jobe, or publishing a statement in any paper in the State, showing that he was not to blame about it in any way, publishes in the Sentinel, of the 14th instant, a letter in which he indulges in personal abuse of myself as the proprietor of the North Carolina Presbyterian. I shall not attempt to imitate him. I have nothing to say about him personally, but his official acts are proper subjects of criticism. If he had discharged his duty—that duty which the law devolves upon him—so soon as we were informed of it, we would most cheerfully have given him credit for it, and taken back anything we said; but, according to his own showing, he has not done so. See the following extract from the Postmaster's own statement:

"When any contractor fails to commence the service stipulated in his contract or abandons the same, it is the duty of the Postmasters, at the ends of the route, to report the fact to the contract office and to furnish the name of a person who will enter into contract for the lowest price for the residue of the term." [See regulations, chap. 36, sec. 406, of Postal Laws and regulations. Edition 1866.]

Now take the law to be just as he states it, (and I do not doubt its correctness,) what was the duty of the Postmasters at the ends of the route? To release the contractor and seek some other mode of supplying this community with mail facilities, or see what was the lowest price for which the residue of the term could be supplied? Most assuredly it was to employ some one to complete the contract at the lowest price that would be offered, without regard to the amount for which the original contract had been taken. Now did the Raleigh Postmaster do that??? Not if his own statement is to be relied on. He says "he took it upon himself to offer compensation pro rata with the contract for even a tri-weekly service of the mail;" and with a great flourish, as if he had done his duty, goes into a long tirade of personal abuse. That will not make amends for the loss this community has sustained from a failure on somebody's part to discharge their official duties.

I do not wish to charge upon the Raleigh Postmaster that he alone is to blame. I do not know how that is. He must have thought that it was his duty to look after it, for he undertook to discharge the duty; but from ignorance, or some other cause, he failed to do any good—what the law, as laid down by himself, requires to be done.—When a man does the best he can do, give him credit for good intentions. I am willing to do that. He says he "went dilligently to work," "communicated by telegraph to the contractor, reported the facts to the military Headquarters at Raleigh," "reported the failure at once to the contract office at Washington," and, wonder of wonders, "took upon himself to offer compensation pro rata with the contract for even a tri-weekly service of the mail." Look at the law, as quoted by yourself. Tell us, if you can, why you did not find out what was the "lowest price" any one would finish the contract for, "and furnish the name of a person who would enter into contract for the lowest price for the residue of the term?" I am willing to admit that the Raleigh Postmaster tried. And his effort to discharge a plain duty reminds me of a man who took a contract for a tri-weekly mail from Raleigh to Fayetteville, via Summerville, about 10 years ago. He gave his bond, and the time came for the arrival of the tri-weekly mail—but no mail came. The second week passed, and the third, but still no tri-weekly mail yet to be seen. He was called upon to know what was the matter—why he had not done his duty. He replied that he had discharged his contract to the letter; that he contracted for a try-weekly mail and he had tried every week and could not do it. Give the Raleigh Postmaster credit for taking "upon himself to offer compensation pro rata with the contract for even a 'try' weekly service of the mail." It was the best he knew how to do, and his ignorance must be taken as a sufficient excuse for his failure to perform a plain duty.

W. McL. McKAY.

Fayetteville, May 22, 1867.

The New York Times only tells what is true of all the leading cities when it says that a merchant in New York advertised on Thursday last for a clerk—application to be made by letter. By noon of the day on which his advertisement appeared he had received 80 applications for the situation, and before the next day had passed, the number had reached 119! The salary was small, the inducements were few, and the work required close attention, and yet the anxiety for the place was so great as to be but poorly shown by the number of applications.—Many of the applicants could speak two or three languages, and claimed to be possessed of various valuable accomplishments.

COMMENCEMENT AT KITTRELL'S.

MESSRS EDITORS:—The graduating exercises of Kittrell's Springs Female College were interesting and impressive.

Wednesday was a beautiful and charming day, and at an early hour the Chapel was filled to its utmost capacity with an appreciative audience. The exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. James A. Riddick, of the Va. Conference. The essays of the graduating class were noble in sentiment and elegant in style, and evinced capacity and scholarly culture. These essays were very good, and reflected credit on the young ladies and their skilful teachers, and some of them were strikingly excellent both in conception and expression.

The following are the names and residences of the young ladies, who graduated, and the subjects of their essays:

Salutatory—Miss Ettie Maner, Edgecombe.
Lords of Creation—Miss Emma Drew, Northampton.
My Own, my Native Land—Miss Jennie Hinton, Norfolk.
Importance of Trifles—Miss Boggs Laboyteaux, Elizabeth City.
Experience of a Dixie Girl—Miss Jennie Laboyteaux, Elizabeth City.
Memory—Miss Mary Lyon, Edgecombe.
The Uses of Great Men—Miss Ettie Maner, Edgecombe.
Mist is the Dark Stem of the Lilly-Day—Miss Bettie Maner, Edgecombe.
The Sword and the Pen—Miss Lucy Riddick, Sussex, Va.
Hope—Miss Sallie Swett, Henderson.
Valedictory—Miss Jennie Hinton, Norfolk, Va.

After the reading of these essays, the Rev. C. B. Riddick, the President, conferred the diplomas on the above named young ladies.

The address of the President was comprehensive and appropriate. It was very chaste and classic in style, and was delivered in a very affectionate and impressive manner.

The afternoon exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. John Tillett, of the N. C. Conference. After which the Literary address was delivered by the Rev. Joel W Tucker, of the N. C. Conference. The subject, the influence of woman. It was an able an eloquent address, abounding in beautiful and striking analogies.

The Concert was opened with prayer by Rev. L. L. Hendren.

Both the vocal and instrumental music was of a decidedly superior character.

The entertainment literally charmed the audience. All felt much indebted to the able instructors, as well as to the high musical culture of the young ladies, and the superior tone and power of Stieff's grand Pianos used on the occasion.

The following is the programme:

Overture; Barbier de Sevilla; Rossini.
German Immigrant's Song of Home; Will Loftin Hargrave.
Granville Waltz; Hargrave.
Air from Somnambula; Variations by Bonner.
Mermaid's Song.
What are the Wild Waves Saying; a vocal duett by Glover.
Pin doice e Placide; Rossini.
Greeting to Spring; an echo song.
Polka Rondo; Fowler.
Murmuring Lyre; vocal duett.
Ada Waltz. [Little Folks.]
Poor Old Moses—Humorous Song; Hargrave.
Duett from Norma. (Two Pianos.)
Overture, Calif de Bagdad.

Overture, Zampa.
"Bright was the Land of the South in its Pride;" Hargrave.
Brilliant Variations to "Oft in the Stilly Night."
Sprite Waltz; Hargrave.
When Thy Bosom Heaves a Sigh; Vocal Duett.
Sweet Sixteen. Vocal Duett.
Waltz, by Mozart.
Medley, by Hargrave.
Les quatres Amis—G. W. Hewett.
Sans Souci.
Homage to Verdi.

It is now conceded by all that this Institution, with its decidedly superior advantages, is a complete success, and we hope that its continued prosperity will keep pace with the high merits and the liberal outlay of its proprietor.

VIATOR

REGISTRATION IN ALABAMA.

ATALANTA, May 26.—An important general order on registration has just been issued by General Pope. The following are the salient points:

The States of Georgia and Alabama will be districted, and a freedman placed on every board of registration. Registers are to take the iron clad oath, and to explain to all persons their political rights and privileges. The right to register and vote will be guaranteed by the military authorities.—Violent threats or any oppressive means to prevent persons from registering or voting will be followed by immediate arrest and trial by military commission. No contract with laborers depriving them of wages for any longer time than actually consumed in registering or voting is permitted to be enforced, under penalty of arrest and trial. In cases of disturbance at places of registration or voting, civil authorities will be called on for protection, and, in their default, the military. Civil officers refusing to protect registers or voters will be arrested and tried by a military commission.

REIGN OF TERROR ON THE VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE BORDER.—Information just received from Bristol, on the line of Virginia and Tennessee, states that a perfect reign of terror exists there in consequence of the depredations of a company of Brownlow's militia who invaded the town. This company numbers about one hundred, two-thirds of whom are negroes. They are represented as brutal and lawless, and have created the greatest consternation among the inhabitants.—New York Herald.

JUDGE KELLEY.—Mr. Kelley, from Pennsylvania, the man who brought about the collision at Mobile, passed through this city Tuesday evening. It is said that while in Atlanta Gen. Pope requested him to discontinue his stumping tour, as he deemed his utterances productive of much harm. Perhaps this gentle hint induced Mr. Kelley not to favor our city with one of his harangues. We are sure it is a matter of no regret.—Augusta Chronicle, May 23.

A VIRGINIA WHITE WOMAN MARRIES A BLACK MAN.—Some talk having been occasioned in this community, says the Winchester (Va.) Times, on account of the reported marriage of a white woman to a black man, we have made inquiry into the matter, and find the report true. The happy groom is a black man, raised and formerly owned by a citizen of Winchester; the bride is a white woman, for some time a resident of Winchester. The marriage ceremony was performed by a colored clergyman.

The Winchester Times has been shown a specimen of Cashmere goat's wool. The animals from which it was cut are owned by Mr. Daniel Micheill, of Hardy county, and are the only ones in Virginia. They were imported directly from Cashmere, and purchased by Mr. Micheill at $300 per pair. The Times says the wool they bear is exceedingly fine in texture, and as glossy as silk.

There was a Yankee Chaplain Lawrence, who wanted to be a Tennessee Congressman. Lawrence was loyal, but Brownlow happened to prefer somebody else, and Brownlow's paper said, not unjustly, that Lawrence was a humbug, an itinerant adventurer and no credit to his cloth, but contrariwise. These things moved Lawrence to give up his pretensions, whereupon Browzlow's paper said the sacrifice was just like Lawrence; it always knew he would, and he was a patriotic Christian gentleman!

POSTPONED TO JUNE 17.

GRAND CHARITABLE PRESENTATION CONCERT,
—IN AID OF THE—
SOUTHERN ORPHAN ASSOCIATION.
(Incorporated by the Legislature of Virginia, January 30, 1867.)
TO BE GIVEN AT THE MARYLAND INSTITUTE,
BALTIMORE,
JUNE 17th. 1867.

THE PROFITS OF THIS CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN TO THE SOUTHERN ORPHANS' ASSOCIATION, TO THE SUBJOINED ADDRESS FROM THE OFFICERS OF WHICH, WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC.

The officers of the Southern Orphans' Association, for the maintenance and education of the destitute orphans of deceased Southern soldiers and sailors, earnestly solicit the sympathy and co-operation in our

GRAND PRESENTATION CONCERT

OF ALL WHO DESIRE TO SEE THE

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

Enabled to receive and care for all the needy ones who seek its shelter and protection.

It is the design of this Association to erect a for the Ophans of the South, both male and female, on an extensive scale, in the city of Richmond, Va. As an inducement to have the building located there, the Common Council of that city have guaranteed a sufficient lot of land, in an elevated and healthful location, and will increase the quantity of land if needed.

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

It is with a confident hope in a favorable response to this appeal to a public which has never yet failed to sustain a charitable institution, that we have entered into an arrangement with Messrs. L. T. Palmer & Co., No. 13 Holliday street, Baltimore, to organize a Grand Musical Presentation Concert for its benefit, and earnestly solicit the kindly aid and patronage of the public to ensure its success.

It may seem unnecessary to add a single word to the above address, but calls upon the Institution have been so numerous and pressing, and the struggle through which it is now passing to widen the circle of its charities, is of such an arduous nature that the management cannot too strongly urge upon the everywhere an active participation in this additional attempt to alleviate the sad condition of great numbers of helpless children, rendered thus by the terrible war through which we have passed. And, assuredly, whatever may have been the relative political views of ladies and gentlemen heretofore, all must agree that the children referred to could not, by any possibility, have had any agency in bringing about their present

DEPLORABLE AND DESTITUTE CONDITION

and are suitable objects for the charity of all persons of whatever shade of political opinion. The

"HOME AND SCHOOL,"

which they now more particularly seek to establish and endow, will be of incalculable benefit by providing not only food and raiment for these helpless ones, but likewise solid and thorough education, thus qualifying them for FUTURE USEFULNESS TO SOCIETY AT LARGE.
In order that this appeal may be effectual in enlisting the active interest and co-operation of all classes of persons everywhere, we have concluded to issue for the GRAND

PRESENTATION MUSICAL CONCERT

THE SENTINEL.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, 1867.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—See notice by Patrick Ferrall, Administrator of Jno. O'Rorke, deceased.

Envelopes, Musical publications, &c.:—Williams & Lambeth, Booksellers and Stationers, Fayetteville Street.

Goodrich's School Histories, Poets in blue and gold, &c: Branson & Farrar, Fayetteville Street.

Great Agricultural Ware-House: Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern.

THE CIRCUIT COURT of the United States will commence its session in this City on Monday next. It is understood that Chief Justice Chase will be present and will probably preside. Judge Brooks, of course, will be in attendance.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL ROOM.—One of the neatest buildings we have ever seen for Sunday School purposes has just been erected on the lot of the Episcopal Church, in this City, by that denomination. It is of the Gothic cottage style, and the windows are of stained glass. We are glad to learn that the flourishing condition of the school justifies so handsome an improvement.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PIC-NIC.—The teachers and children of the Sabbath Schools, attached to the Methodist and Baptist churches in this City, go "a-Maying" this morning. They are to have a union-feast of good things, with some appropriate exercises and innocent enjoyments. Heaven bless the children! May their young hearts be made glad!

ANOTHER CONCERT.—The annual Concert of the children of the Baptist Sunday School will take place at the Church, on Thursday evening, (to-morrow.) The programme, &c., will be announced in due time. Under the auspices of the efficient Superintendent, this entertainment will doubtless be a most pleasing one.

THE PRESIDENT'S VISIT.—The Committee appointed by the City Commissioners to make the necessary preparations for the reception of President Johnson are perfecting their arrangements. We presume, of course, that the military will co-operate in the matter.

Gov. Worth is in receipt of a private telegram from the President, announcing that he will reach Raleigh on Monday afternoon next.

COUNTY MATTERS.—The Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions for this County adjourned on yesterday, after having been in session since Monday of last week.

We learn that the County taxes on all subjects were laid at exactly three times those imposed by the State.

Willie Perry was elected Superintendent of the County Work-House, vice Wyatt J. Holleman, resigned.

Wyatt J. Holleman, late Superintendent of the County Work-House, was tried for, and convicted of, an assault, in whipping a negro convict for disobedience of orders. We have no doubt the man deserved punishment, but the Superintendent transcended his authority in inflicting that particular kind. We are surprised that he should have done it, considering his party relations.

On yesterday, R. C. Badger, Esq., resigned the position of County Solicitor, which he has so ably filled, and Mr. Charles M. Busbee was appointed, by the Magistrates, to perform the duties of the office until August Term. Mr. Busbee is a young gentleman of much promise, and will make a good officer.

Geo. Taylor was elected County Register, vice C. M. Busbee, resigned.

THE BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION.—This body, lately in session at Wilmington, has adjourned. We have furnished an abstract of its more important action up to Saturday. On that day the following resolutions, touching the relations of the colored people to the Church, were offered by Rev. J. D. Huffham, of this City, and were adopted:

1. That they be encouraged in all cases to form separate organizations.

2. That our brethren generally should recognize and assist them in doing this, and in preserving Gospel order, and in establishing and keeping up day schools, and such other institutions as have for their object to promote the spiritual and intellectual well-being of the race.

3. That our Pastors may labor usefully in giving instruction to colored brethren, who have already entered the Ministry, or who may have it in contemplation.

The next session of the Convention is to be held at Goldsboro, on the Wednesday before the third Sunday in October next.

HON. WM. LANDER, of Lincoln, has been for some time suffering severely from an affliction of his eyes, nearly depriving him of sight. We are pleased to learn, from the Lincoln Courier, that he is now undergoing a course of medical treatment from which he and his friends anticipate relief.

ASHEVILLE NEWS.—This excellent weekly proposes to take South Carolina Treasury notes at ten per cent discount for subscriptions.

——Mr. Balis Gardner, says the Asheville News, dropped dead in the road, near Burnsville, on the 18th. inst.

——There is a woman living near Asheville, now 40 years old, who has a perfectly formed body, but neither arms or legs. Her name is Hester Massy.

——The Asheville News says that flour has fallen in that town, the past week, from $8 to $5½ per 100 lbs. Is there any chance for an early fall here? It is needed.

——One of Brownlow's imps from Tennessee, who has been lurking in Buncombe on pretence of claiming a horse, made such an assault upon a feeble lady in that County by words and threats, in the absence of her husband, as to cause serious illness.

——The Asheville News, in noticing a recent marriage, says "in union there is strength." It is so where there is real union, but often a forced union is a source of great weakness and trouble.

——BLACKBERRIES.—The season for picking and drying Blackberries will soon be here, and we advise all who have time to do so, in the country, white and black, to save all the blackberries they can, as the article will sell for a good price and put money in their pockets. At least five thousand dollars worth of blackberries can be secured in Iredell county, by people who will have little else to do. Our merchants will purchase all such fruit and pay in money or goods. Do not neglect the advice we give.

The Statesville American makes the above suggestion. It is a good one. There are many poor families in this section who seek a precarious living in selling fruits.—We hope our growers here, and merchants generally, will encourage them to gather and dry blackberries. It is an article much in demand, and pays well.—EDS. SENTINEL.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I have recently seen a new pump, which is so far ahead of anything in its line, that it is worth the attention of your readers.

A simple hole, say three inches in diameter, is made in the earth, until a vein is reached. This is done by means of a crow-bar-looking instrument; joints being added as it goes down. This bar is drawn out, and a pipe inserted, with a filterer at the lower extremity. It is furnished with a valve at the upper end, a foot or two from the handle.

The qualities of it are very remarkable.—In a sandy soil it can be sunk and water drawn in one hour. The one I saw was inserted in forty-five minutes. In this particular locality, (Raleigh,) it would take more time, as rock might be encountered in the boring; although this is no serious impediment, as there are instruments for getting through granite or any other hard substances.

The supply of water is inexhaustible. It is as though a sponge were placed into a tumbler, and saturated with water, and a quill introduced into the sponge, and the water drawn through the quill by suction. This is the principle. One hundred dollars are offered to any one who will pump one of them dry.

They can be drawn out at pleasure, and either re-inserted, or put down at another place. The water is clear and abundant.

Messrs. Mitchell, Allen & Co., of Newbern, are the proprietors for this State; and, as their custom is, they are pushing this department of their business in good style.—The new pump is getting into use in the East, and it would be a vast improvement here.

These gentlemen sent a man to Kinston to insert one of their pumps. He reached the depot by the morning train, carried his affairs a mile, inserted the pump, got a good jet of water, and returned to Newbern by the evening train. X. Y. Z.

GENERAL GRANT AND THE CABINET.—We are informed that General Grant was not present at any Cabinet meeting or council at any time when the Attorney-General's opinion was discussed or considered, and that the "opinion," when considered in Cabinet, did not "meet unanimous approval."—Washington Star.

An expectant bridegroom recently applied at the military headquarters, in our city, for the use of the United States band to play at his wedding. The officer in charge of the musicians replied that he did not know about lending the band, but he thought he could furnish a file of soldiers to fire over the house.—[Picayune.]

Persons who indulge in canned fruits will save much trouble in opening the cans, by putting a coal of fire on the little circle in the centre of the cans and blowing it, which will melt the solder that secures that peice. A lady friend gave us the hint, and we have tried it successfully.

Some weeks since, the wife of a respectable citizen of Troy died, after a brief illness, leaving her husband something like $5,000, which she had carefully saved from money which came into her possession, and of the existence of which the husband was entirely ignorant.

General D. N. Couch, of Massachusetts, it is said, has been elected and accepted the presidency of a mining and manufacturing company that has recently purchased sixty square miles of mineral land in Virginia.

It is stated that there are many poor people requiring aid in Livingston Parish, La. One instance is related of a widow of a Confederate soldier who subsisted herself and family on pepper grass alone for several days.

A person asked Mr. Patrick Maguire if he knew Mr. Tim Duffy. "Know him!" said Pat; "why, he's a very near relation of mine. He once proposed to marry my sister!"

Gov. Orr, of South Carolina, has received from [illegible] North an old deed bearing date June 1, 1795, in which Elizabeth and James Brockett convey to James Crawford certain lands on Edisto Island.

Lord Buckingham was once at a dinner where a Mr. Grubb was required to sing.—He begged to be excused, urging that he knew not what to sing. "Sing 'I'd be a butterfly,'" suggested the nobleman.

Gen. Swayne has removed the entire civil government of Selma, and appointed a renegade named Saffold as Mayor, with a council of sycophants whose only claims are that they boast of "loilty."

THE RICHMOND RIOTS.

RICHMOND, May 28.

The Mayor to-day closed the investigation of the recent riot, and sent on for indictment two colored men and two white firemen.

Henry Ward Beecher, in his new novel, thus speaks of New England, the land of his nativity:

"Perhaps nowhere in the world can be found more unlovely wickedness—a malignant, bitter, tenacious hatred of good—than in New England."

We have'nt read this Puritan parson's novel, and don't expect to, but he undoubtedly understands this part of his subject.

The Methodist Protestant Church of the Southern States held a general Convention at Montgomery recently. Bishop Pierce and others of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, attended as fraternal messengers for the union of the two churches. The Protestants finally adopted resolutions to leave the matter for each District Conference to decide upon. Good feeling prevailed.

Without a single exception, so far as we know, the Jacobin demagogues who are engaged in making bullying and insulting speeches through the prostrate and helpless South, took good care to keep away from there when the war was going on.

A little girl of three years was saying her prayers, not long since, when her little brother, about four years old, came up slyly behind and pulled her hair. Without moving her head she paused and said, "Please Lord, excuse me a minute while I kick Herby."

A lad has been terribly whipped in a Springfield, Mass., school upon false information that he had been to the circus. The law has been invoked for the punishment of the hasty teacher.

The Western papers teem with elopement cases. An old physician of Peoria, Ill., has just eloped with a young lady, leaving his family in a distressed condition and his creditors ditto.

The New York Commercial thinks the time is now come, when newspaper writers, North, should drop the term "rebel" when speaking of the South or the Southern people.

Why is a prosy preacher like the middle of a wheel? Because the fellows around him are tired.

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.

OPEN JUNE 1.

This favorite and delightful watering-place, having undergone thorough renovation, is prepared to receive visitors. The owners have made every effort in the outfit and equipment to render the place more than ever attractive to those in quest of recreation, while to the invalid its medicinal waters hold out new hopes of health. It may be confidently claimed for them that they have in a great many cases relieved, and in many more cases cured, the following diseases: SCROFULA, and many chronic CUTANEOUS diseases; CHRONIC THRUSH, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, DROPSY, AFFECTIONS OF KIDNEY and BLADDER, and PILES; and, in connection with the Hot Baths, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.

As an appetizer, a tonic, and general restorative to an enfeebled constitution, it is perhaps unrivalled amongst mineral waters. The proprietors have engaged for the approaching season

A VERY SUPERIOR BAND OF MUSIC,

both for the LAWN and the BALL-ROOM.

THE BILLIARD AND BOWLING SALOONS, both for ladies and gentlemen, will be found in more complete order than ever before.

From the very extensive preparations now making at all the leading Virginia Springs, a heavy travel is anticipated, and, we think, will be attracted. It shall be the aim of the undersigned to keep their establishment FULLY UP TO THE FOREMOST; and they hope to see a renewal of the social reunions which in former years lent such a charm to these mountain retreats.

Passengers by the Virginia Central railroad get off the cars at GOSHEN Depot. Eight (8) miles of staging over a smooth road lands them at the Springs.

BOARD, $3.50 PER DAY; $90 PER MONTH.

We have secured the efficient services of Captain WILLIAM H. SALE, so long and favorably known to the public, in connection with these Springs.

KNOW THY DESTINY.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. FOR RENT.

FIRST CLASS PROPERTY FOR RENT.

THAT LARGE, COMMODIOUS, AND WELL known Hotel,

"THE METROPOLITAN"

situated in the center of the business portion of Greensboro, N. C., is offered for rent or lease.

Its advantages are many; the outhouses and improvements are in fine condition, and of modern construction. Greensboro is a point at which a well conducted Hotel cannot fail to pay an active manager very handsomely; being at the terminus of the Richmond, Danville and Piedmont Rail Road, about the middle of the N. C. Central Rail Road, in the very centre of the Mining District of N. C.; at a point always remarkable for its flourishing schools and female colleges, and well known as a summer resort, on account of its healthy atmosphere.

The proprietors would prefer renting to some party, who have had experience in conducting a first-class hotel, and to such the terms would be most liberal; at any rate they desire an active and energetic man. The Metropolitan Property being the only Hotel in the central part of town, makes it most desirable, and a competent manager would enjoy a monopoly.

THE AGED PASTOR.

He stands in the desk, that grave old man,
With an eye still bright, though his cheek is wan,
And his long, white locks are backward roll'd,
From a noble brow of a classic mould,
And his form, though bent by the weight of years,
Somewhat of its primal beauty wears.

He opens the page of the Sacred Word—
Not a whisper, nor low nor loud, is heard;
Even folly assumes a serious look,
As he readeth the words of the Holy Book;
And the thoughtless and gay grow rev'rent there,
As he opens his lips in fervent prayer.

He stands as the grave old prophet stood,
Proclaiming the truths of the living God—
Pouring reproof in the ears of men,
Whose hearts are at ease in their folly and sin,
With a challenge of guilt, still unforgiven,
To the soul unfitted, unmeet for Heaven.

O, who can but honor that good old man,
As he neareth his three-score years and ten?
Who hath made it the work of his life to bless
Our world, in its woe and wretchedness;
Still guiding the feet which were wont to stray
In the paths of sin, to the narrow way.

With a kindly heart, through the lapsing years,
He hath shared your joys, he hath wiped your tears,
He hath bound the wreath on the brow of the bride,
He hath stood by the couch when loved ones died,
Pointing the soul to a glorious Heaven,
As the ties which bound it to earth were riven.

Methinks ye'll weep another day,
When the good old man shall have passed away,
When the last of his ebbing sands are run,
When his labors are o'er and his work is done;
Who'll care for the flock and keep the fold,
When his pulse is stilled, and his heart is cold?

Ye'll miss him then; every look and tone,
So familiar now, when forever gone,
Will thrill the heart with an inward pain,
As ye long and listen for them in vain,
When a stranger form and a stranger face
Shall stand in your honored pastor's place.

THE RUNAWAY MATCH.

A great many years since, when bright-eyed and fair-haired lassies were not so plenty in New England as they are now, there dwelt in the town of P——, a pretty village, distant some twenty miles from the market-town, a peculiar ugly and cross-grained, but wealthy farmer.

Mannie was Danforth's only child, and report said truly that she would be his sole delegate. The old man was a sturdy farmer, and was estimated to be worth full ten thousand dollars, at that period a very handsome fortune, to be sure. The sparkling eyes and winning manners of Mannie Danforth had stirred up the finer feelings of the whole male portion of the village, and her suitors were numerous, but her father was peculiar, and none succeeded in winning the headway with him or her.

In the meantime Mannie had a true and loyal lover in secret. Who would have supposed for one moment that such a fellow dare to look on beauty and comparative refinement? His name was Walker, and he was simply a farmer employed by old Danforth, who had entrusted Joe with the management of his place two or three years.

But a very excellent farmer and a right good manager was this Joe Walker. He was young too—only twenty-three—and he actually fell in love with this beautiful, pleasant, joyous Mannie Danforth, his employer's daughter. But the strangest part of the occurrence was that Mannie returned his love earnestly, truly, frankly, and promised to wed him at a favorable time.

Things went on merry for a time, but old Danforth discovered certain glances and attentions between them which excited his envy and suspicions. Very soon afterwards Joe learned the old man's mind in regard to his future disposal of Mannie's hand. He quickly saw his case was a hopeless one unless he resorted to stratagem; so he set his wits at once to work. By agreement, an apparently settled dislike and coldness was observed by the lovers for each other for five or six months, and the father saw, as he believed, with satisfaction that his previous fears had been premature. Then, by the agreement also between them, Joe absented himself from home at evening; and night after night, for full three months longer, did Joe disappear as soon as his work was finished, to return home only at a late bedtime. This was unusual, and old Danforth determined to know the cause of it.

Joe frankly confessed that he was in love with a man's daughter, who resided less than three miles distant, but, after a faithful attachment between them for several months, the old man had utterly refused his application for the young girl's hand.

This satisfied him that he had made a mistake in regard to his own child, and must help Joe to get married and thus stop all further trouble or suspicion at home.

"Do you like her?"

"Yes, sir—yes."

"Then marry her."

"But I can't—her father objects."

"Poh! let him do so, what need you care? Run away with her."

"Elope!"

"Yes! off with you at once. If the gal will join, all right. Marry her, bring her here; you shall have the cottage at the foot of the lane. I'll furnish it for you; your wages shall be increased, and the old man may like it or not."

"But,"—

"But, no buts, Joe. Do as I bid you; go about it at once, and"—

"You will stand by me!"

"Yes, to the last. I know, Joe, you are a good fellow and good workman, and will make anybody a good son or good husband."

"The old fellow will be so mad though."

"Who cares? Go now quickly."

"To-morrow night, then," said Joe.

"Yes."

"I'll hire Clover's horse."

"No you shan't"

"No?"

"I say no. Take my horse—the best one—Young Morgan—he'll take you in fine style in the new phæton."

"The old gentleman will be astonished."

"Never mind, go on. We'll turn the laugh on him. I'll take care of you and your wife at any rate."

"I'll do it," said Joe.

"You shall," said Danforth; and they parted in good spirits.

An hour after dark on the following evening, Joe made his appearance dressed in a new black suit, and really looked very comely. The old man bustled out to the barn with him, helping him to harness Young Morgan to his new phæton.

A few rods distant from the house he found Mannie, as by previous arrangement, and repairing to the next village the parson very quickly made them one in the band of holy wedlock. Joe took his bride and soon dashed back to the town of P—— and halted at old Danforth's house, who was ready looking for him with open arms.

"Is it done?" cried the old gentleman.

"Yes—!" answered Joe.

"Bring her in," continued the old fellow in high glee; "never mind compliments here;" and the honest farmer rushed for lights, returning almost immediately.

"Yes, yes!"

"And this is my wife," he added, as he passed up his beautiful bride—the bewitching and lovely Mannie Danforth.

"What!" roared the old file, "what did you say, Joe—you villain, you scamp, you audacious cheat, you—"

"It is true, sir, we are lawfully married; you advised me to this course; you assisted me; you planned the whole affair; you let me have a horse; you thought me last night worthy of any man's child; you encouraged me; you promised to stand by me; you offered me the cottage at the foot of the hill—"

"I didn't. I deny it. You can't prove it, you're a——."

"Calmly now, sir," said Joe. And the entreaties of the happy couple were united to quell the old man's ire, and to get him to acknowledge the union.

He gave in reluctantly, and the fair Mannie Danforth was overjoyed to be acknowledged as Mrs. Joe Walker.

The marriage proved a joyous one, and the original assertion of Danforth is true in every respect. The cunning lover was a good son and faithful husband, and lived many years to enjoy the happiness which followed upon his runaway match, while the old man never cared to hear much about the details of an elopement, for he saw how completely he had overshot his mark.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I,——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section.
